STATINTL

I was delighted to have your kind invitation for dinner on the evening of Thursday, 26 March. Unfortunately, I have just sent Nancy off to Boston to be with her Mother while she has minor surgery and am uncertain when she will return. If her Mother has a quick recovery, Nancy will probably be back on the 26th, and we would both be delighted to join you as suggested at the Statler. However, I would not judge the odds pretty good.

If you would like to make this purely a social get-together, I would suggest we wait until May when I shall have returned from a month overseas during April, and Nancy will also be back. On the other hand, if you would like to have an opportunity to discuss the somewhat tangled affair of the NRO, I should be happy to accept your invitation for dinner alone and meet you as planned. Of course if Nancy is back, I will bring her along and we can do a little of both.

It was very nice to see you again, and I hope you will soon accept our invitation to come by for a drink or two.

Sincerely,

Albert D. Wheelon
